

Bachelor of Arts in Art History

The major at-a-glance ...

Degree Plan

Freshman Year

■ ARHI 1101

Sophomore Year

■ Global (incl. ARHI 1102 or 1103)
■ 1 - ARHI 2000 or 3000-level course
■ VART 1135: Intro to Visual Thinking

Junior Year

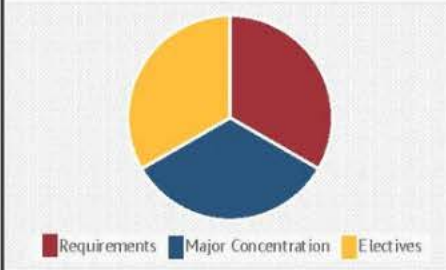

■ 2 - ARHI 2000 or 3000-level courses
■ 1 - ARHI elective

Senior Year

■ ARHI 4600: Senior Seminar (fall only)
■ 1 - ARHI 4000-level course
■ ARHI 4951: Art History Internship

Degree plan includes:

9 courses = 34-35 credits.

Scan here to learn more!

NOTE: Course offerings vary by semester. Current and upcoming courses on our website at www.fordham.edu/arhistory.

Ideal Major Combinations

Communications
New Media & Digital Design
English
Chemistry
Biological Science

Visual Arts
Economics
Classic Civilizations
Film & TV
Political Science

49% of all Art History Majors have a double major*

Most POPULAR*

23% - Comm/New Media
13% - Sciences
13% - Visual Arts

*Double Major Info. based on Current Students

Minimalist art movement posters by Outmane Amahou

Our courses train students in visual literacy, offering them the necessary skills to analyze and write about non-verbal modes of expression. They explore visual production from a wide range of cultures: Europe (ancient through modern); Latin America (ancient through modern); Asia (ancient through modern); and the United States. Courses take full advantage of the museums, galleries, and urban experience of New York City.

Reasons to study Art History

- 1 Develop visual literacy; understand images and material objects in our world.
- 2 Experience artworks first hand in New York City.
- 3 Study internationally, including at Fordham programs in London, Granada, and Rome.
- 4 Learn in small classes taught by internationally recognized faculty.
- 5 Test different career paths through internships in the city.

Our students have held

INTERNSHIPS at:

Sotheby's
Christie's
Metropolitan Museum of Art
Museum of Modern Art
Hispanic Society

Alumni*

Top 5 JOBS / INDUSTRIES:

Galleries & Auction Houses
Sales & Marketing
Museums & Cultural Institutions
Publishing & Media
Education

Alumni Reflection: "Best thing about studying art history at Fordham is two fold. First, some of Americas greatest museums are a train ride away, and second the department itself is small enough that you get to know all the professors, but large enough to have a very diverse and engaged faculty!"

Peter Vergara, FCRH'18, Sotheby's Sales

*Averages from 2012-2018

Department of Art History and Music
Faculty Memorial Hall 417A
441 E. Fordham Road, Bronx, NY 10458
718-817-4890

FORDHAM UNIVERSITY
THE JOSEPH UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK