Dear Friends:

Please accept my most heartfelt congratulations on celebrating the dedication of The Joseph M. McShane, S.J. Campus Center. I am sure that I join with everyone gathered tonight in applauding this notable achievement. Through his exceptional leadership, Father McShane has truly earned the admiration and respect of his Fordham University Family and that of the legal education community as a whole.

It is certainly right and fitting that Father McShane's exceptional contributions over the past two decades be recognized. Under his stewardship, the university has undergone unprecedented growth and successfully weathered a global pandemic. Without question, Father McShane's energy, vision, and commitment will be greatly missed, but his efforts have left Fordham poised to succeed for years to come.

Once again, congratulations on this special dedication and best wishes to Fordham University and Father McShane on this momentous occasion.

Sincerely,
