

“Father McShane’s leadership has brought extraordinary growth to Fordham, which can be measured not only by its footprint, but also by its prestige and reputation. For many years, Bloomberg Philanthropies has been fortunate to have the benefit of his wise counsel as a board member—and all of New York has benefited from his commitment to the city he loves and the university community he has served so well.”

—The Honorable Michael R. Bloomberg, Founder of Bloomberg LP and Bloomberg Philanthropies, and 108th Mayor of New York City

Former New York City mayor Michael Bloomberg (center) was among the dignitaries who helped Fordham dedicate its new law school building at the Lincoln Center campus on September 18, 2014. He was joined by (from left) Edward Cardinal Egan; Michael M. Martin, then dean of Fordham Law School; U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor; Robert D. Daleo, GABELLI '72, chair of the Fordham University Board of Trustees; the Hon. Loretta A. Preska, LAW '73; and Father McShane.
