

FORDHAM IN GRANADA

Students in the Fordham in Granada program take four to five courses taught in Spanish or English, depending on language proficiency. Courses in Art History, Business, Communications and Media Studies, Economics, History, International Studies, Literature, Math, Political Science, Psychology, Spanish, and Sociology are available. For specific course lists, please visit our website. Students can also take advantage of for-credit internships.

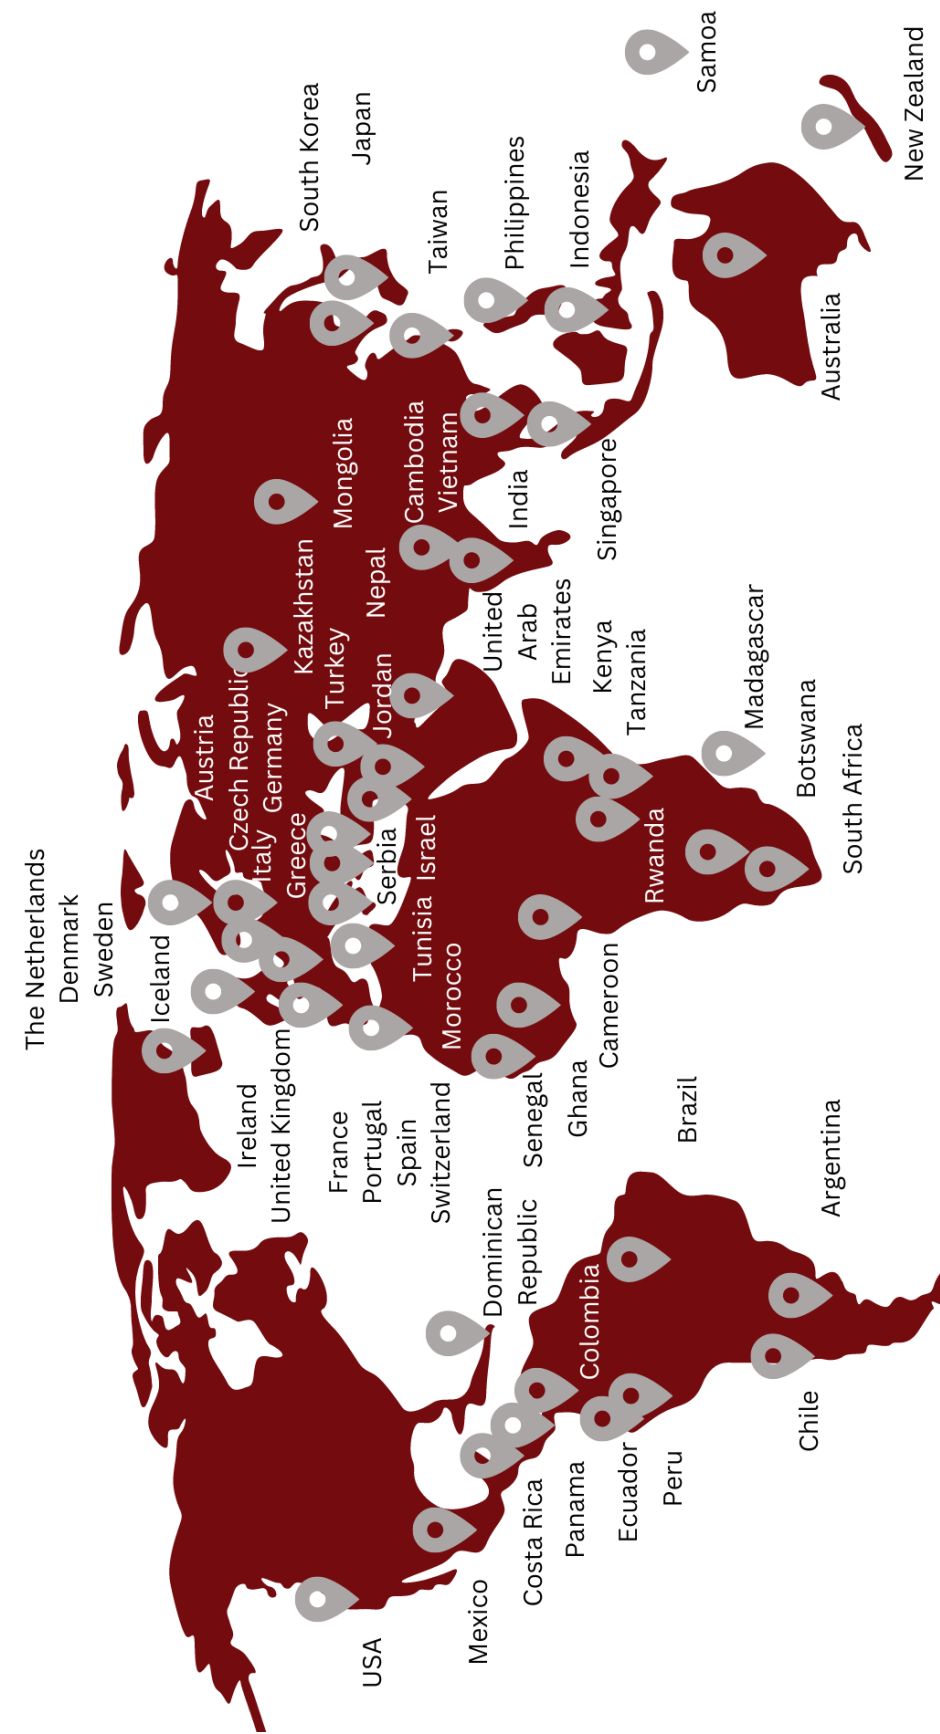

Fordham in Granada is based at Cultural Experiences Abroad (CEA/CAPA) and the University of Granada, the third largest university in Spain. The University of Granada hosts a diverse student population and extensive history - dating back to 1531 when Emperor Charles V founded the institution on the site of the previous Arab university.

Granada, a UNESCO recognized World Heritage Site and a City of Literature, is one of the most beautiful cities in Spain and the world. Granada is also the hometown of Federico García Lorca and the center for flamenco culture. The Alhambra Palace, the Sacromonte and Albayzín neighborhoods, the Cathedral and the numerous Baroque churches of the city are a testament of the rich past which continues to thrive through its vibrant university community.

SHORT-TERM PROGRAMS

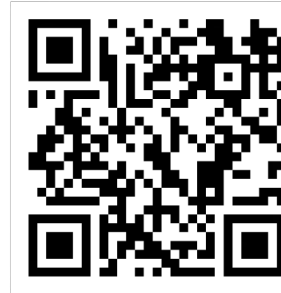

Short-term study abroad programs typically range from one to four weeks, allowing students who would otherwise be unable to commit to a semester or full-year overseas an opportunity to incorporate a global experience into their education. Study abroad staff work with Fordham faculty to develop exciting and immersive courses with a specific host city and academic theme in mind. Fordham London and Granada offer a variety of summer courses. For an updated list of approved summer programs and details regarding financial aid and program costs, please visit fordham.edu/studyabroad.

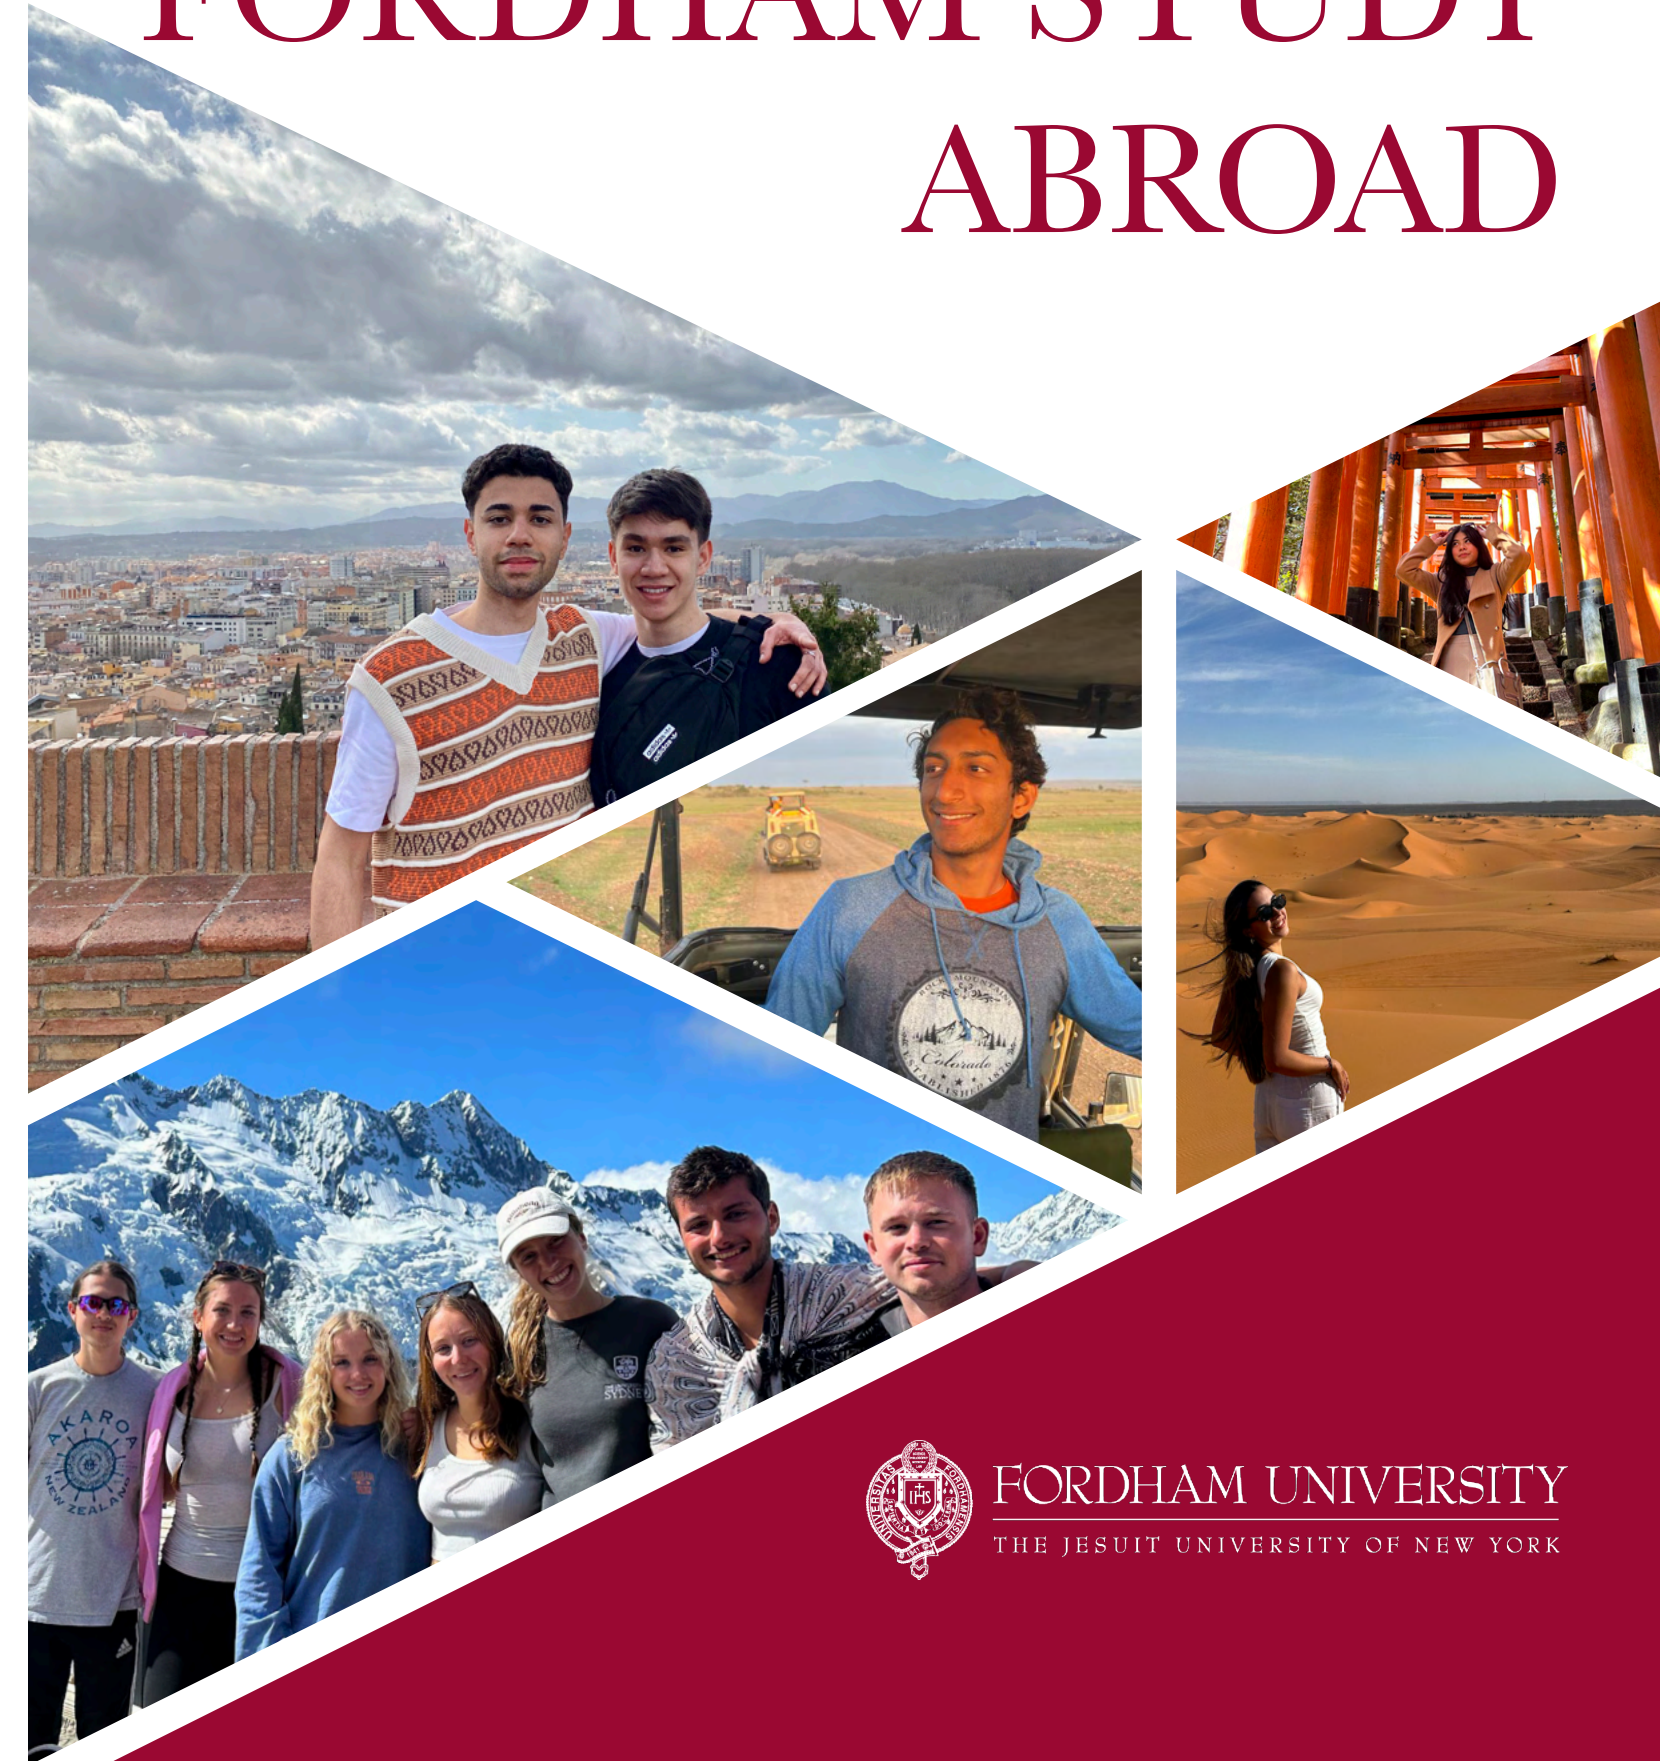

CONTACT US

Please visit fordham.edu/studyabroad to learn more about our program options or to schedule an appointment with a study abroad advisor.

718.817.3464 | studyabroad@fordham.edu | @fordhamabroad | #fordhamabroad

FORDHAM STUDY ABROAD

FORDHAM IN LONDON

Liberal Arts

This program offers students the opportunity to take courses at the Fordham London Centre and the option to take one module (course) at one of three universities: Queen Mary University London (fall only), City St. George's University London, or the University of Westminster. Programs at Fordham London are available during the Fall and Spring terms after their first semester sophomore year. Core and major courses are available in a variety of subjects including Art History, Communications and Media Studies, Economics, English, Film and Television, History, Political Science, Philosophy, Theatre, and Theology and allow students to continue with their requirements while incorporating British and European perspectives.

Gabelli School of Business

This program offers students the opportunity to take core and major courses at the Fordham London Centre, located a short walk from the City of London, a European financial hub. Courses in Accounting and Taxation, Law and Ethics, Business Communications and Media Management, Finance and Business Economics, and Marketing are available and allow students to continue with their requirements while opening their eyes to new business practices and ideas.

"Studying abroad in London was an incredible experience for me. Firstly, the opportunity to immerse myself in a new culture was invaluable. Living in London allowed me to explore its rich history, diverse communities, and vibrant arts scene firsthand. Secondly, the academic environment, professors, and resources enriched my learning experience. Overall, my study abroad experience in London was a transformative journey that not only enhanced my education but also enriched my life in countless ways."

- Jasmine Aiello, Fordham in London Spring 2024

ACADEMIC SETTINGS

Fordham University offers over 100 study abroad programs in more than 50 countries, on 6 continents. For a full list of our partner and exchange programs, please visit fordham.edu/studyabroad.

Direct Enrollment Programs

Direct Enrollment programs provide students an immersive study abroad experience. Students in these programs live and study alongside degree-seeking students at esteemed university partners such as Oxford University, Sciences Po Reims, University of Sydney, Singapore Management University, and many others. Fordham offers direct enrollments at both English-taught universities and immersive language programs in a number of countries. Fordham's Exchange Programs include direct enrollments at universities in Argentina, Australia, Austria, Brazil, China, Colombia, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Mexico, The Netherlands, Peru, The Philippines, South Korea, and Spain. These programs are well-suited to motivated, independent, and adaptable students who are seeking a culturally and academically immersive study abroad experience.

Island Programs

Island Programs provide students the opportunity to study abroad at centers that replicate the American university experience and are specifically designed to cater to the needs of American study abroad students. Students enrolled in these programs will live and study with other study abroad students, and attend courses where teaching and assessment are comparable to those at American universities. Unless otherwise noted, instruction is in English but a language class may be required in locations whose host language is not English.

Some island programs partner with local universities, allowing study abroad students to enroll in certain local university classes alongside local students. Participants are exposed to teaching and assessment methods that may differ from those at American universities. Unless otherwise noted, these classes are taught in the language of the host country. These unique programs are called "Hybrid" in our catalog.

Special Focus Programs

Special Focus Programs integrate a central academic subject, thematic topic, experiential learning, service opportunity, or internship that permeates the student experience. These programs provide students who are interested in a special focus the opportunity to be immersed in that topic for their term abroad. These programs may offer extensive field-based work, independent research, service learning, or professional internships.

"This was one of the most fun and memorable experiences in my life. I really felt enveloped in Japanese culture, and by the end of the academic year, it felt like a second home."

- James Novello, Fordham Partner/ Temple University Japan Academic Year '23-'24

HOW TO APPLY

Preparation to study abroad can never begin too early. Visit our office, speak with your academic advisors, and research opportunities online. Applications are completed online in the Study Abroad Portal. For detailed information, or to schedule an appointment with a study abroad advisor, please visit fordham.edu/studyabroad.

Cost/Financial Aid

Fordham in London, Fordham in Granada, Exchange, and Partner Programs' tuition is the same as traditional undergraduate per-term Fordham tuition in NY. Additional fees that cover the cost of housing, insurance, orientation, co-curricular activities, the Study Abroad Fee, Technology Fee, General Fee, and Insurance Fee will be charged. Given the student's continuing eligibility, all Fordham financial aid will be portable for approved study abroad programs except room-specific aid and work-study. Tuition Remission, Tuition Exchange, and FACHEX can be applied to the cost for Fordham in London, Fordham in Granada, and Exchange Programs only. Need-based metro grants for commuting students are portable for approved study abroad programs, but please consult with the Office of Student Financial Services to determine Metro Grant portability.

For all study abroad programs, as long as eligibility requirements are met, students eligible for a Pell Grant, a New York State TAP grant or student loans can apply this aid toward their study abroad charges.

"One of the biggest takeaways from my study abroad experience was rediscovering my love for learning. Moreover, I have grown so much both academically and personally. I now have a new perspective on the world."

- Grace Yearwood, Fordham Partner/SIT Cape Town Spring 2024

